Nantucket Impressions

Every man and woman has an island. There is a place of peace and contentment deep in the mind of everyone. Islands are like that. The isolation of their geography brings them the great gift of peace and a difference in pace. Nantucket is a world complete. Separated from the mainland, it has always been accessible and, yet, moving to its own rhythm. Nantucketers had to go to sea even to go to market. The sea was the source of the wealth of this island people and also the source of its depressions and heartaches. Nantucket had its lean times and, fortunately for us, these very economic lows were responsible for the preservation of the old houses. As it happened, when the mainland was booming and rebuilding, Nantucket would be in the midst of depression. As a result, the world of 150 years ago is perfectly preserved for the visitor of today. Only the automobile destroys the illusion and Nantucket fought a long battle against the introduction of the car. The cobbled streets of the 1800's, the captain's walks on almost every roof, the elaborate graceful homes of the wealthy shipowners, the brass and solid silver knockers from England, the miles of magnificent beach, the brick sidewalks, the little lanes leading to someone's backyard, the rose covered cottages, the ancient narrow streets lined with shops and homes all completely different, all this and more is the island of Nantucket. The ghosts of the rugged men who sailed from the beautiful harbor must lead a contented life as they stroll down streets that have remained as they were when the ships sailed to England, to Japan and to the whaling grounds of the Pacific. These spirits must be pleased that the homes they built to stand the storms have survived the destruction of "progress" and have been kept in magnificent condition all these years. Looking at the architecture of Nantucket is like looking at the work of an artist. Just as it is possible to deduct the personality of the painter through the style of his painting, you can see the personality of the Nantucket man in the style of his village. He was strong, he was inspired by the beauty of the world, he had the taste of an educated mind, he loved his home. More striking than any other quality is the individuality of the Nantucketer. No home is like another. The streets wind and meander. The charm and beauty of this place is in its total lack of uniformity. The visitor can stroll happily with the spirits of this island and leave, reluctantly, down Easy Street to the pier. Everyone should have an island to return to to renew his spirit and Nantucket is the place where you can step back a century to charge the batteries of your individuality.

As the first race got underway, Jim Barnes in Gay Lee Ann II quickly crossed line and took command all the way to the first marker. Then Harvey Pentleton in Swamp Fox came from behind; Sue McGowan in Hep Cat was third, Joan Darrah in Duke fourth. They sailed in this order during the next two legs. Nearing Molly's Cove MYC guide buoy, Jim unfortunately made a tactical error which caused him to withdraw. The final line-up then became Pentleton first, Sue McGowan second, and Joan Darrah third.

The second Beetle Cat contest proved to be the tightest battle of the afternoon with the outcome in doubt until the very end. Susan McGowan won the starting duel, was overtaken by Jim Barnes on the first leg but came back again. As they rounded the first marker they were bow to bow, with Pentleton third. Shortly Barnes moved ahead followed by Sue and Pentleton. Then a shift: Gay Lee Ann was still leading but Hep Cat had dropped behind Swamp Fox. On the fourth leg the competition really stepped up: the three top contenders were separated by only one boat length. Then chance intervened. Halfway up the windward leg (the east one) Sue took an extra tack, and a delaying action it turned out to be. The climactic ending was summed up this way: Barnes first by five seconds over Pentleton and Sue in third place by a margin of only one second.

The Beetle Cats seemed to leave the line together like a nine-boat team, but as they neared the halfway point of the first leg, they began to fan out. Here, Harvey Pentleton in Swamp Fox edged forward, only to see Joan Darrah in Duke cut the lead in time to round the marker in first place. JULY SENIOR SERIES

The July Senior Series on Saturday, July 15th, concluded the week's activities, with a double header for both Corinthians and Beetle Cats.

Billy Mee was twice a winner for the Corinthians, while Jim Barnes and Harvey Pentleton shared honors for the Beetle Cats.

Hazy skies, fair visibility, and steady 10-15 mile SW winds prevailed throughout the afternoon.

The first course took them to Mattapoisett Neck MYC guide buoy, to Barnard's Wharf MYC guide buoy, to Molly's Cove MYC guide buoy and back to Barnard's Wharf MYC guide buoy; the second to Molly's Cove MYC guide buoy, to Barnard's Wharf MYC guide buoy, back to Molly's Cove MYC buoy, and to Ned's Point MYC guide buoy.

In the first Corinthian race Norman Shachoy's Blue Chip captured the lead, but soon Billy Mee began to forge ahead and passed Blue Chip to finish by a margin of 58 seconds. Jack O'Leary's Quest came in third.

The second Corinthian race saw Billy Mee sail away from the other three Corinthians (Lulu piloted by Phil McCarthy had now entered the race making four in competition) and was never challenged. Norman Shachoy placed second again, Desautels behind by 01:17.

The two Beetle Cat contests proved to be nip and tuck affairs with positions shifting swiftly and with unforeseen circumstances changing results.

The second Handicap Race will be held this coming Saturday, July 22nd. Time: 1:25 P.M.

School Committee Decision

PRESS RELEASE FROM SCHOOL COMMITTEE

Because of the substantial growth of the Mattapoisett schools, it is the opinion of the School Committee that an organization which provides the system with an individual principal for each school results in assignments which can be handled most effectively by both individuals. Decisions can be made promptly as required. Any increase in cost will be insignificant. Continuity and coordination of the system as a whole will be maintained by the Superintendent's Office as they now control the coordination of all the elementary schools in Mattapoisett, Marion and Rochester with Old Rochester Regional High School. The Committee appreciates the interest and communications of the citizens. This has caused a careful re-examination of its action. This study has convinced the Committee that its original action is the best overall action to take at this time. It is the Committee's plan therefore to appoint separate principals for the two schools for the coming school year.

The power that is actually held by the Mattapoisett School Committee, which should be considerable, considering the sums of money involved in the school system, belong to the School Committee members, only in trust, as agents of the taxpayers of this town. Each decision of this committee affects every property tax bill in town and therefore should be held accountable to every voter. The decision to have two principals in the small elementary school system of Mattapoisett was challenged by taxpayers. School Committee members Blanche Perry and Paul Alves, in an open meeting with Selectmen David Haley and Donald Linhares presiding, agreed to reconsider this decision. At that meeting it was all but admitted that one principal and an assistant principal could do the administrative job. Yet, when the announcement was made that the original decision was unalterable, made by Dr. Joseph Kunces as spokesman for the School Committee, it left no doubt as to who is in command. Last week's open letter stated that the School Committee had demonstrated a need for two principals. This is not so. What the School Committee demonstrated is something quite different and extremely disturbing.

Victims of a Coup

Editorial, D.C.J.

The Democrats have been purged so thoroughly that, although the name remains, the party could now be known as the People's Socialist Party. The experienced who ran the Democrat organization have been unceremoniously replaced by a new wave of leftist reformers. Perhaps the most significant interview conducted on the floor of Convention Hall was the one with "Abbie" Hoffman, the notorious Chicago Seven Anarchist. Hoffman said, "McGovern better make it". Hoffman and his fellow delegates, working through the system, have performed a fantastic feat. In four years they have graduated from battling the police of Chicago on the streets to battling for and winning control of the major political party of the United States. They now have a candidate for President. It is significant that this convention represents every minority and will perpetuate minority power by instituting the most rigid discrimination. A quota system will insure the percentage of blacks, the percentage of "poor", the percentage of women delegates. Defying the laws of the United States which presumably prevent discrimination on the basis of color, sex, etc., the new Democrats will require future delegates to be chosen on the basis of sex, color and economic status. This is the paradox of the left wing liberal who is able to force others to obey a law which he himself ignores completely. This ability to be the champion of all is the key to mastery over the gullible. In all of the millions of words of the convention few words were wasted on the majority of the population who work to support their families and who are taxed without mercy to support the government. Only George Wallace devoted any attention to the majority of the working population. His 14 minutes received little reaction and complete rejection of his proposed planks to the party platform. The majority of Americans, the working man has no place in the new Democratic party platform.

McGovern is the standard bearer for the freeloaders who are promised a guaranteed wage for not working, for the deserters who are promised amnesty for cowardice, for the peace minded who are promised retreat from our military positions, for the dreamer who is promised a lasting peace without strong national defense. McGovern is the candidate who will do everything for everybody and he will do it instantly. McGovern is the miracle man who will change the

Fair Saturday

SUMMER FAIR IN MARION

A block-long area on Marion's Main Street between School and Front Streets will be taken over Saturday, July 22nd, by the First Congregational Church for its annual Summer Fair. Booths and tables will fill the church yard and spill over into the General Store lot across the street, while a fun-packed midway will hold forth on the bank parking lot and the Chapel grounds.

In the new Congregational Community Center hall, the former Sidewalk Cafe, now the Chapel Cafe, will serve Fair patrons its celebrated lobster salad rolls along with a variety of other specialties, under cover from heat of sun or possibility of shower. Mrs. Otis C. Severance and Mrs. Robert R. Thackeray will be in charge of a crew of helpers.

The Fair will open at 10 A.M. and continue throughout the day. It follows the church's annual auction, held Saturday, July 8th, at Barden's Boat Yard. The all-day sale was an unqualified success, attracting a large crowd and much spirited bidding, particularly for the marine items, including three boats and quantities of fishing gear.

Under the general chairmanship of Mr. and Mrs. L. Howard Carl, Jr., the Fair will have the following sub-chairmen: William A. Clough, books; Mrs. Norbert

New Bedford made national Youthpower headlines last week as Miss Jean Bevins, Youthpower Adviser at the YWCA, was presented the Beak of the Week Award.

The award was the result of Miss Bevins' development of a program that would provide constructive activity for young people, providing them with a skill that could help them earn money this summer or in summers to come.

She organized the Creative Arts Workshop which was held at the YWCA in June and is being followed by a summer-long series of craft classes.

Youthpower, Inc. and the YWCA are sponsoring a Creative Arts Demonstration Series on Thursdays during the summer. The demonstration on July 20th will be on Fashion Design by Miss Jacqueline Joaquin. It will be held in the YWCA dining room from 7:30 to 8:30 P.M. Miss Joaquin is a senior in Visual Design at SMU and a former YWCA member. She will demonstrate pattern making and techniques in fabric printing.

Young people and adults are invited to this weekly series. It is open to the public at no charge. For further details, call Jean Bevins at Youthpower or the YWCA.

Summer recruitment for the YWCA USO Junior Volunteers is now going on. Recent high school graduates, college students who are home for the summer, and other young girls between the ages of 18 and 25, are invited to join this group. Girls are invited to attend at least two dances as guests, and these occur each Wednesday and Saturday night at the Navy YMCA in Newport, Rhode Island. Interested girls should contact the YWCA for an interview.

PENNY FAIR

An open Penny Fair will be held at the Mattapoisett Grange Hall grounds on Friday, July 21st, from 10 A.M. to 3 P.M., sponsored by the Junior Grange. In case of rain it will be held inside. There will be home baked goodies, grabs, white elephants, magazines, books and puzzles, a rummage table and games for children to play.

Harlene Fearing and Lauren Horne are the general chairmen, assisted by Jody Briggs, home baked goods; Phillip Barrows, white elephants; Dean Sylvia and Richard Barrows, magazines, books, etc.; Karen Barrows, beverages; Lauren Horne and Harlene Fearing, grabs; William Hubbard, games; and Mrs. Gladys Pearson and Mrs. Ruby Barber, rummage.

prizes await the moms and dads and all the youngsters at the Mattapoisett Woman's Club's fantiastic family fun fair Saturday, August 5th, at the Center School grounds from eleven in the morning until four in the afternoon.

"Cranberry", a genial pet raccoon, will help to greet fun seekers enjoying the activities surrounding all the striped tents and decorated booths.

"Everybody wins!" says chairlady Peggy Jensen, who has arranged, with the cooperation of the School Committee, to move the whole thing into the school gymnasium in case of rain.

Everything from penny candy to attic treasures will be available, including a book mart and food sale.

The committee, including Gladys Hall, Joyce Zagame and Irene Holden, are working very hard to make this the most fun-filled frolic of the summer season.

TOBEY HOSPITAL TO DEDICATE NEW WING, SATURDAY, JULY 22

A reception for visitors and tours of its extensive new facilities will highlight Tobey Hospital's dedication of the recently-completed, 5-story Susanna K. Tobey wing on Saturday, July 22nd. With 42 additional patient beds and numerous ultra-modern medical and support-service areas and equipment, completion of this construction enables Tobey Hospital to provide the most modern patient care services ever available to residents in Southeastern Massachusetts.

"Open House" will be held at the hospital from 2:00 P.M. to 5:00 P.M. Sharing with the Trustees and Medical/Nursing Staff as hosts for this occasion are the Hospital Guild and Employees' Association. The traditional invocation and ribbon-cutting ceremonies will be held promptly at 2:00 P.M. Expected to be present for the dedication are Governor and Mrs. Francis W. Sargent, who attended the "kick-off" exercises last year for the $3,000,000 building fund drive which is still in process.

Prominent hospital officials from all over the state, together with officers of the Massachusetts Hospital Association and town officials from all the communities served by Tobey Hospital, have been invited to attend this event. Each visitor will be given a copy of the hospital's annual report for its most recent fiscal year. Those attending the dedication may join in tours not only through the new 5-story wing, but also through sections of the "old" hospital which have been completely renovated, and in some cases rebuilt, to provide more extensive paramedical facilities for improved patient care. Refreshments will be served in the new staff dining room.

Visitors will have a chance to inspect the for patients, can be seen the carefully-engineered nursing stations which serve as the "nerve centers" for ministering to patient needs and for instant communication with all other special-service departments. On the ground floor visitors will be shown the newly-automated Record Room, the beautifully appointed Meditation Room for visitors, the spacious business offices, the new Stillman Library, and the carefully planned offices for the Administration and the Directors of Nursing Services.

On the floor below the main entrance, directly connected with the present Out-Patient and Emergency Room treatment areas, and with the Laboratory and X-ray departments, is a new Physiotherapy and Diathermy unit with equipment never previously available. Here too is the new In-Patient Admitting Office, and farther down the hall is the commodious employee dining room and spacious kitchen and food-service facilities. On the lowest floor of the new wing visitors will see the new hospital Pharmacy with all the space necessary for compounding and storing special medications for reserve stock or for patient trays. Adjacent to the Pharmacy is the incredibly-automated Central Supply department where all reusable medical and surgical supplies are cleaned, sterilized, rewrapped and automatically sorted by a huge conveyor for distribution to all medical and surgical departments.

Full utilization of the new rooms for patients on the two top floors will be achieved later this summer when the new Wareham sewerage system has been completed. The Trustees are hopeful that the goal of the fund-raising campaign can be reached by the end of this year.

new Operating Room and 6-bed Recovery Room on the top floor where the latest electronic bio-medical equipment is available to both physicians and patients. On the two top floors, each with 21 additional beds

WHIST PARTY

A public whist party will be held at the Marion Grange Hall this Saturday, July 22nd at 8 P.M.

FAIRHAVEN SAVINGS REACHES $100-MILLION MARK IN TOTAL ASSETS

Mr. Richard H. Carpenter, president of the Fairhaven Institution for Savings, disclosed that the bank has reached $100,000,000 in assets. He said, "We have our customers to thank for this remarkable achievement. We had the best earnings of any savings bank in southeastern Massachusetts and second best in the entire state in 1971".

Carpenter continued, "We at Fairhaven Savings have always been actively interested in the community, and the community has reacted favorably. For example, we make all our mortgage loans in the southeastern Massachusetts area to serve the local communities. We don't write any out-of-state mortgages."

To help celebrate reaching $100-million in total assets, Fairhaven Savings gave away a Toro Mower-Sno-blower. Carpenter stated that many customers entered. The winner was William Henriques of Fairhaven. In addition, Fairhaven Savings tellers gave away free packets of flower seeds with every banking transaction.

Carpenter also reminisced about the past and future. "$100-million is a far cry from the $4,327,944.96 in total assets as of April 18, 1942, when Fairhaven Savings opened at our present location at 15 Center Street. We grew steadily and by June 10, 1964, total assets exceeded the $50-million mark. On June 5, 1969, the figure stood at more than $75-million. We're looking forward now to continued growth with the help of our customers."

The Mattapoisett Post Office is holding a letter belonging to a resident of the Harbor Beach or Aucoot area, written to "Ruth". This letter is unidentifiable as it has no envelope or address. There is also a book of tickets to the "Treat Out Club". These may be picked up at the Post Office. These, along with a few pieces of 3rd Class advertising, are all that were not deliverable, from the mail that was removed from the rural boxes on Friday, July 14th.

Championship. The Stage Harbor Yacht Club at Chatham is hosting the event.

SOCIAL SECURITY INCREASE

Social Security beneficiaries do not have to apply for the 20 percent benefit increase signed into law by President Nixon on July 1. Social Security Acting District Manager Arthur R. Hogan said that all social security beneficiaries who are on the benefit rolls in September will receive the increase automatically. The increase is effective beginning with the payments for the month of September, which are received early in October. The increase applies to all social security beneficiaries including those receiving retirement, survivor and disability benefits.

The special monthly payments that are made to certain individuals age 72 and over who are not insured for regular social security case benefits will also be increased by 20 percent, from $48.30 to $58. for an individual and from $72.50 to $87. for a couple. The new law also includes a provision for automatic annual increases in social security benefits as the cost of living rises in the future. Under the new law the contribution and benefit base -- the maximum amount of annual earnings that is counted for benefit and contribution purposes, will rise from the present $9000 a year to $10,800 in 1973 and to $12,000 in 1974. Thereafter, this amount would be adjusted automatically to keep pace with rising wages. This means that as earnings rise workers whose earnings are at or above the level of the maximum earnings base will pay contributions on higher earnings. However, they also will have those additional earnings counted toward the benefits that will be payable to them and their familes in the future.
